

LA FOLLETTE TO SPEAK THURSDAY

But He Will Enter Campaign Under The Auspices Of The Dane County And Not The State Central Committee.

IS EXPECTED TO ATTACK CONNOR

Rumor Has It That State Chairman Wanted But Could Not Obtain Junior Senator's Letter To Governor Davidson, In Order To Write Pertinent Answer That Would Keep "Bob" Off The Platform.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Oct. 24.—Senator R. M. La Follette will tomorrow enter the republican campaign in Wisconsin, but his arrangements have been made by the Dane county republican committee, rather than by the republican state central committee, from the headquarters of the state campaign in Milwaukee. There are two reasons for this unusual situation. One is that Senator La Follette will not advise the election of one member of the republican state ticket, which member happens to be W. D. Connor, chairman of the republican state central committee and manager of the state campaign. The other reason is that Chairman Connor does not want the junior senator, or Senator John C. Spooner for that matter either, to enter the campaign. It is said that Chairman Connor feels that the campaign is already won for the republican state ticket and that there is no need of the presence of the two United States senators on the stump, and perhaps no need of allowing any federal official to say after the campaign is over and the usual republican majority counted up, "I helped to do it."

FOOTBALL COACHING BY A HIGH-BROWED SYSTEM AT MADISON

Doctor of Philosophy Hutchins Has Abandoned the Rude Hardening Process of Phil King—Mild and Gentle Signal Practice Substituted. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Oct. 24.—The motto of football practice established at the University of Wisconsin, by former coach Phil King—"We learn to do by doing"—has been revised by Coach Hutchins and the daily scrimmages, that took pounds and pounds off the players in King's time and sent them trotting out to the rubbing tables and baths of the gymnasium, have given way to mild and pleasant signal practice and the working out of scientific football inventions evolved out of the mind of the doctor of philosophy who is now at the head of the badger department of athletics. No scrimmages have been held this week, but Dr. Hutchins has found the daily afternoon practices too brief for the perfecting of his new stunts and has ordered the varsity players to report every evening after supper at the gymnasium, where in rubber-soled shoes the team is run through new and cleverly contrived formations and taught to perform new tricks. "There are some critics here who, remembering the hardening process of Phil King upon the old teams that gave Wisconsin a reputation on the gridiron, are doubtful in the extreme of the efficiency of the new brand of training."

RAILWAY "LEECHES" WILL BE ATTACKED

Car-Thieving Roads Will Be Given Severe Jolt by American Railway Association. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Chicago, Oct. 24.—The meeting of the American Railway association, which began in Chicago today, is of far more than usual importance and it is expected that the deliberations and conclusions of the meeting will give a severe jolt to some of the railroad companies of the country that are persistently "mean" in their dealings with other roads. The association proposes to adopt measures which will put railway "leeches" out of business, and will impose such heavy penalties on "car thieves" as to make it profitable for them to quit their evil ways. A "railway leech" is a road which persistently refuses to purchase as much equipment as it needs and depends for its traffic upon securing enough cars from other lines at a per diem rate, which is unprofitable to the owners. A "car thief" is a railroad which gets possession of cars belonging to other roads, runs them away and uses them for its own purposes, regardless of the wishes of the owners.

NEW CRUISERS FOR NAVY MUST ATTAIN HIGH SPEED

Minnesota Given First Trial Under New Form Of Contract--To Go Eighteen Knots Or Better. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—The preliminary trial of the Minnesota, one of the most powerful battleships ever built for the United States navy, takes place today over the official course in New England waters. Her trial will be made to determine how well she steams, whether her machinery works smoothly and approximately what her speed is. The ship is reported as fit as a race horse, and that she will meet and exceed the requirements of the contract is regarded as a certainty by naval experts. Her progress has been closely watched her progress from the day her keel was laid down in the yards of the Newport News shipbuilding company. Particular interest attaches to the trial of the Minnesota because it is the first for the new ships upon which there was the stipulation of an extra trial for speed of four hours duration over a measured course. The ship will be tried according to the standardized screw method in accordance with the current practice, that method having heretofore given satisfactory results. The wording of the contract for the construction of the Minnesota is different from the wording of the contracts for ships which have recently had their trials, the requirements being that the ship shall be subjected to a speed trial of four hours duration. Other battleships of the same class as the Minnesota which will be tested soon are the Kansas and Vermont. Each of these is expected to have her trials before the end of the present year. All three must maintain a speed of at least eighteen knots an hour. The Vermont is at the Fore River shipyard, the Kansas at the yard of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J. The Minnesota, the Kansas and the Vermont are each of 16,500 tons displacement and have 16,500 indicated horsepower. Each is 456 feet long, has 76 feet, 10 inches beam, and draws 24 feet 6 inches of water. These ships have two military masts fitted for wireless telegraphy and three funnels. Their appearance is considerably different from the battleships of the Massachusetts type, which is much smaller. The older type has the low free board, whereas the larger ships are high out of the water. The older ships have but two funnels. The Alabama class resembles the Minnesota more closely, although the funnels of that type are two in number and are placed abreast. It will take 840 officers and bluejackets to man each of the new ships, against 580 for a ship like the Massachusetts.

CATHEDRAL OF COLOGNE RIVALED AT PITTSBURG

Edifice Built For Fabulous Sum Of Money Dedicated By Cardinal Gibbons And Other High Prelates. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 24.—The magnificent new St. Paul's Roman Catholic Cathedral, at Fifth avenue and Craig street, was formally dedicated today amid much pomp and ceremony, and the eloquent sermon by Cardinal Gibbons that followed was heard by fully 4,000 people. The dedicatory services proper were commenced early in the forenoon, when His Eminence, in his scarlet robes, attended by archbishops and bishops garbed in purple, and scores of white-robed priests, entered upon the formal duties, according to the requirements of the church ritual for such occasions. The stately walls, roofs, pillars and every part of the massive building, were blessed and sprinkled with holy oils and perfumed waters. On the floor ashes were strewn in the shape of a cross, and therein Bishop Canavin inscribed the letters of the Latin and Greek alphabet, symbolical of the fact that the edifice was consecrated to God and on behalf of the people of all nations. When the formal ceremonies had been concluded the doors were thrown open to the public, and the crowd began pouring in. Mass was then celebrated in the presence of the cardinal and prelates. The music was a conspicuous part of the ceremonies. The musical program was under the direction of Prof. Joseph Otten. A boys' choir, a priests' choir, and the Capuchin Fathers' choir figured in the event. The new cathedral has been over two years in building, and an almost fabulous sum of money has been spent in its construction. The edifice has two large spires, and in this and

MADISON HAPPY OVER FRANCHISE

ACTION OF JANESVILLE CITY COUNCIL ASSURES:

THROUGH LINE TO CHICAGO

Madison Traction Co. Is Getting Ready to Co-operate With the New Clough Road.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 24.—The granting of a satisfactory interurban franchise by the common council of Janesville is a source of much gratification in the capital city, for it is believed to assure the speedy construction of a line from the Bower City to Madison, connecting at Janesville with the line to Rockford. When this is completed, the vision of Madison as a complete trolley line from Madison to Chicago, it is believed here that Mr. Clough and his interests mean business and that the granting of the franchise at Janesville was the only real remaining obstacle to the building of the line.
The report from Janesville to the effect that it is contemplated to run the cars to the Battle Creek sanitarium at South Madison, thence across Lake Monona to Madison, is hardly believed here. The filling of sufficient right of way across Lake Monona would be a stupendous undertaking, accompanied with large expense, to mention the difficulty of crossing the many tracks of the North-Western and Milwaukee roads, which is believed, could hardly be accomplished without expensive litigation and long delays.
It is believed here to be more likely that the new line will connect with the Madison Traction and Interurban company, which has this summer extended to South Madison and has built with heavy rails, and rock ballast as though for the running of interurban cars. The Clough interests have made no application here for a franchise, but the Madison company is trying to get certain additional franchise concessions so as to be able to co-operate with any incoming interurban line. It is said that the survey of the new line from Janesville ends very near the terminus of the Madison company.

SCANDAL OVER THE WICKES WILL VAIN

Jury Declares That Pullman Car Magnate Was Sane—Mrs. Florence Ford Johnstone Will Continue to Live on Moderate Income.

The sensational contest of the will of Thomas H. Wickes, late Pullman car magnate, ended in Judge Honore's court in Chicago yesterday. The will was sustained by the verdict of a jury which declared Wickes sane when he cut off his own children and a grandchild and left the bulk of his $300,000 estate to a nephew, Hugh P. Walden. Thomas H. Wickes, the disinherited son, and the daughters, Mrs. Laura Annette Felt and Mrs. Florence Wickes Ford Johnstone, who was at one time the wife of George O. Ford of Janesville, declare that the case will be carried to the supreme court, if the motion for a new trial which has been entered is not granted. Mrs. Felt, wife of Mr. C. V. Schwartz, a divorcee of Wickes, was not present in the courtroom when the verdict was announced. The verdict, as it stands, means that the son will continue to receive only $500 a year and the daughters will get only the annual income of $100,000, which by the terms of the will has been placed in trust for them. Witnesses produced at the trial by the two daughters and son of the testator related tales of revelry and dissipation, instead of in Grand boulevard, where, according to the testimony of the former father, the car magnate frequently retired at night after he had consumed the contents of a pill filled with five bottles of beer, a quart of whiskey and a bottle of buttermilk. The evidence also revealed the fact that the late vice-president of the Pullman company was once threatened with a breach of promise suit by a fourth woman and that many years ago he figured in an escapade in St. Louis with still another woman. Included in his domestic complications were five divorce suits, all of which were attributed to him. His marriage with the result of chance meetings, Wickes became acquainted with his second wife on a Pullman car, and he proposed marriage to her at their second meeting, according to her testimony.

GOOD TIME TO BUY FARM PROPERTIES

Investors, Says W. J. Litts, Are Realizing Good Margins on Sales—Prospects Never Brighter.

The real estate and farm property outlook has not been brighter in several years, said W. J. Litts, the local real estate man, yesterday. "Farm property demand is active, sales are being made frequently and the general outlook is stronger and better than it has been for a number of years. There are several reasons for the development of the real estate market, the splendid crops, the high prices for tobacco, and the general prosperity all bear upon the demand. Local conditions here in the city are brighter and demand consequently is better. Investors in farm properties are clearing up good margins on sales at the present time and the future looks even better for profit. It is a good time for investment in farm properties as well as in city real estate."

LAST HIGH SCHOOL BALL GAME IN CITY

Beloit Here Saturday Afternoon—All Other Contests Scheduled Are Out of Town.

Probably the last game that the high school football team will play at home will be with Beloit school Saturday afternoon. The contest is to be called at two-thirty. For the remaining Saturdays of the season, excepting November 3, when the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Association will be in session here, are filled with out-of-town games as follows:

November 10—Monroe at Monroe.
November 17—Woodstock at Woodstock.

November 24—Fort Atkinson at Fort Atkinson.

The Woodstock game may be cancelled and one more game be played in Janesville. Nothing is scheduled for Thanksgiving day. The only request for a game at that time comes from the alumni of the high school. A large number of players from the teams of the past three or four years wish to have a scrimmage and have asked Coach Hammon for the date. It is possible it will be given. Among the alumni interested are Carl Bennett, Ryan, Caldwell, and Flaherty.

Gatarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure for It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Gatarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition. The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be regurgitated, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surface of the stomach. To do this is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Distasol, Ascorbic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after a moderate trial.

Mr. R. S. Workman, of Chicago, Ill., writes: "Gatarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite, and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation, as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals. Send your name and address, today for a free trial package and see for yourself. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 55 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MADE BIG RAID ON THE SUCKER TRIBE

Thompson Bros. Lifted Nearly Ten Tons of Carp and Buffalo from Lake Koshkonong Sunday.

Thirty-five thousand pounds of the sucker tribe were hauled out of the lake at Slinger's bay, Lake Koshkonong, by Thompson Bros., under the supervision of Deputy Game Warden John Buckley, on Sunday last. 1,500 yards of seine were used in this big capture of carp and buffalo fish. It was the largest haul ever made from that lake, which is the breeding place of the obnoxious fish which are infesting the waters of the lakes of southern Wisconsin. The nets brought up 4,000 pounds of carp also. These were thrown back into the water, only three being killed. A week previous the same parties made a haul of 20,000 of the carp and buffalo fish. They are barbed and shipped to the eastern states where they are considered a table delicacy. Four carloads were made up from the last catch.

STANDARD OPERA CO. IN 'BOHEMIAN GIRL'

Another Big Audience Was Well Pleased at the Myers Theatre Last Evening.

Another big audience at the Myers Theatre witnessed the presentation of Baile's "Bohemian Girl" by the Standard Opera Co. last evening. The opera made a much better impression than did the "Martha" of the previous evening. The rendition of "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls" in the clear and beautiful soprano of Miss Pauline Perry, "Eliss Forever Past" by George Natanson, and the little Gipsy roudelay by Miss Perry, Mr. Howard, and the chorus in the second scene of the second act, eliciting in each instance an enthusiastic response from the listeners. Miss Perry's delightful simplicity and lack of affectation in acting as well as singing, gave to the character "Arlene" that subtle appeal and charm which the librettist must have meant to be conveyed when he wrote the book over half a century ago.

The role "Count Arheim" was also most adequately sustained by George Natanson and Miss Clara Hunt was judiciously better as the "Gipsy Queen" than as "Nancy," the whiting maid. Johann Bernelson, whose light had been hidden under a bushel in the previous evening, had an opportunity to do some excellent acting as "Devishoff," the chief of the Gipsies. Edwin Howard seemed even less adequate as "Thaddeus" than as "Lionel." His tenor is not only husky but pronounced falsetto qualities but in addition he has not the range required to reach the notes which the score provides for him.

These deficiencies were lost sight of to some extent in the duets but they stood out only too plainly in his solo work. Cecil DeWilde was good in the foppish character of Florentine.

While the chorus is wanting in numbers and volume, the quality of tones is there and their efforts were highly satisfactory last evening. The work of Leander Rudolph Berliner's superb little orchestra was again a delight to everyone. As a whole the theatre patrons were well pleased with their two nights of opera. The two big houses testified to the fact that the people here will lend ample support to musical enterprises of the kind which are believed to possess intrinsic merit. The company left for Watertown this morning.

PROFESSORSHIP IN MEMORY OF SCHURZ

Milwaukee German-Americans Plan to Raise $50,000 Fund to Secure Lectures at University.

Milwaukee, Wis.—A "Carl Schurz Memorial Professorship" is to be established at the University of Wisconsin as a result of the movement just started here by a number of prominent German-Americans. The plan is to raise an endowment of $50,000, the income of which will be used for the establishment of an annual course of lectures at the state university. It is given by prominent professors of German universities. This memorial professorship to be held by German university professors will be the first of the kind in any American state university. It is hoped that the establishment of this new chair will lead to the exchange of professors between the University of Wisconsin and German universities. A similar plan of exchange of professors has just been entered upon between Columbia university and the University of Berlin, through the establishment at the University of Berlin of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship in American history.

The proposed endowment will make it possible for the students of the state university to receive each year the advantages of lectures and instruction by the prominent German specialists in history, literature, science, and all other important fields of knowledge. These lectures, many of which will be in German, will be of interest not only to students, but to all German-Americans of the state. If this new professorship leads to the exchange of professors, members of the faculty of the state university will lecture at German universities.

This form of memorial is generally considered the most appropriate to the memory of Carl Schurz, and it is also fitting that the professorship should be established at the University of Wisconsin, since he was identified with the institution in his early history as a member of its board of regents. In German-American statesman and scholar, the state university conferred upon him in 1905 the honorary degree of doctor of laws. His last appearance in Wisconsin was at the commencement exercises of that year, when he delivered the principal address, one of his most memorable addresses.

Formal organization to carry the project into effect will be begun at once by the appointment of a large executive committee with branches in all the most important cities of the state. This committee will take charge of raising the fund of $50,000, among the friends and admirers of the great German-American statesman and scholar.

COMING THEATRICAL EVENTS

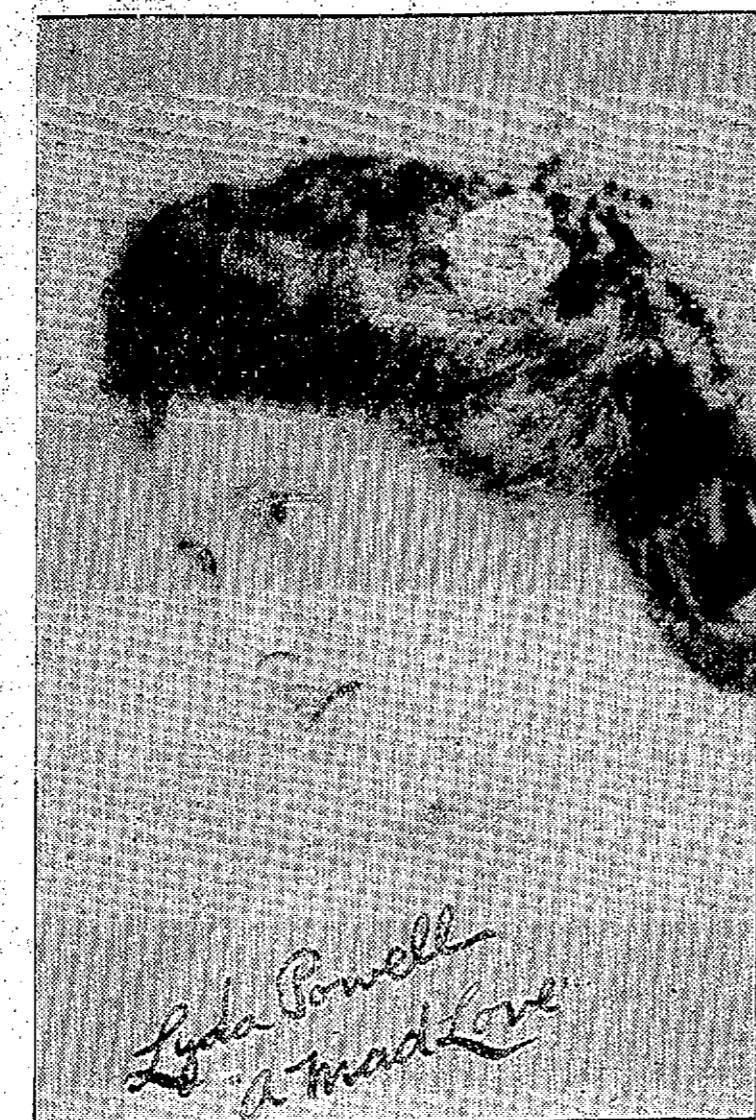

Wednesday evening, Oct. 24—"A Mad Love," the same being an adaptation from "Lady Audrey's Secret."

Thursday evening, Oct. 25—Rose Melville in the Hoosier comedy, "Sis Hopkins."

At the Myers Theatre tonight theatre-goers will have an opportunity to see Edward Locke's much talked of drama, "A Mad Love," under the direction of Edward R. Salter, adapted from "Lady Audrey's Secret." Miss M. E. Braddon's famous story with Miss Lydia Powell, the splendid young actress, in the leading role. "A Mad Love" is a play with something to think of on their way home from the theatre.

"Sis Hopkins." Everybody has heard of "Sis Hopkins." Her droll sayings are quoted in the funny papers and her queer antics have long been subjects for the caricaturists. Rose Melville, the original, will be seen in this comedy of life in the "Hoosier" state at the Myers Theatre Thursday evening of this week.

Madjeska's Tour. Madame Madjeska began her tour last week Monday night under Jules Murry's management in Plainfield, N. J. Prior to her departure for that Love, caught the fancy of the population from the start. The secret of the phenomenal success of the play is that it draws its audience from a wider field than most plays. The story is so true to nature and so replete with intense heart interest and passion, that it appeals to all lovers of good drama. The dramatic situations are so impressive that it leaves its city she said she was in fine condition for a season's work, and looked forward to her tour with keen pleasure.

Duse Gets "The Shulamite." Cleopatra Duse has acquired the Italian rights to "The Shulamite," in which Lena Ashwell has just made her American debut.

In Obedience—The sentence of two boys convicted of vagrancy in the Police Court has been suspended to allow them time to obtain work. If they find employment and stick to it they will be unmolested. Otherwise they will be dealt with according to law.

Arrested for Breaking Into a Warehouse—A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of three boys, charged with breaking into a warehouse near the depot. We have a class of boys in Janesville, which very much needs the restraining influence of the Reform School.

Dr. Dixon's Lecture—The lecture of Dr. Dixon at the Baptist tabernacle last evening was one of very decided merit. Himself a fellow-countryman and personal acquaintance of the renowned Surgeon, Dr. D. was eminently qualified to set forth, as he did, the qualities and achievements that have given birth to his renown. Very many of citizens gave proof, as they do on such occasions, that they knew not the day of their visitation, but an enterprising few went and heard and were delighted.

The Union Meeting at Jefferson—Col. Britton, who came down from Jefferson this afternoon, informs us that the republican mass meeting there was tremendous—there being at least 5,000 people on the ground. He saw one delegation of 300 men on horseback and in 50 wagons. Three bands of music and three pieces of artillery were in attendance. Senator Howe, E. F. Hopkins and others were to address them. The ward fires of the Republicans burn brightly in Jefferson, and we shall hear a good account of our boys up there on the 6th of November.

PLAN TO HOLD FARM OUTPUT

ALL SORTS OF PRODUCE TO BE PUT IN STORE.

Scheme is to hold stock for Profitable Prices by Regulating Supply to the Demand.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 24.—The first national convention of the American Society of Equity, composed of farmers, began here Tuesday, with more than 500 delegates present from Illinois, Kentucky, New York, North Carolina, Utah, Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana. The convention seeks to regulate values of grain and farm produce by regulating the supply in relation to the demand.

In his annual address President C. O. Drayton, of Greenville, Ill., said: "This is not a trust, nor a combine to force extortionate prices, but rather an organization to get profitable prices for farm products. It is composed of local unions of farmers, established at shipping points. The unions from these points form the state association. These combined form the national association. Our idea is to establish granaries in the grain country, cold storage plants, hay barns and places to store all sorts of farm products."

"If the market is low the society will hold the product until the demand forces up profitable prices, when the goods may be sold. The poor farmer who cannot afford to hold his grain will be given a warehouse receipt, good for two-thirds the face value of the grain represented."

"The farmers hope by this regulation of supply and demand to establish the market values. In this connection we will issue daily price bulletins. Telephones in farmhouses will be advocated that the farmer may quickly be advised of a raise. This will give him an opportunity to sell at a profitable figure."

BANK ROBBERS ARE CAUGHT. Sheriff L. Foster Arrests Bandits Who Looted North Dakota Bank.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 24.—After a chase lasting 36 hours, the sheriff's posse succeeded Tuesday evening in capturing the five bandits who robbed the Sawyer, N. D., bank early Monday morning when a battle ensued with citizens, during which 300 shots were fired, the robbers getting away with $4,600.

The men were discovered on a farm near here. Escape was attempted and in a fight which followed one robber was severely wounded in the leg.

Another member of the party ran into a slough with $300 in gold and bills and dropped the money into the water. Money was also scattered on the prairie by the bandits. Chief of Police Hagen secured $3,000 of the money.

Four of the captured men are young and well-dressed, none being over 25 years old. The leader is a hardened looking criminal, somewhat older. The money was being carried in bags and was composed of gold and bills, all the heavy silver having been thrown away.

To Merge Baseball Leagues. Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 24.—Information has been given out through the Centillions, owners of the Des Moines franchise, that the plan of the Western League, magnate for next season is to practically merge the Western league and the Western association.

In his annual address President C. O. Drayton, of Greenville, Ill., said: "This is not a trust, nor a combine to force extortionate prices, but rather an organization to get profitable prices for farm products. It is composed of local unions of farmers, established at shipping points. The unions from these points form the state association. These combined form the national association. Our idea is to establish granaries in the grain country, cold storage plants, hay barns and places to store all sorts of farm products."

"If the market is low the society will hold the product until the demand forces up profitable prices, when the goods may be sold. The poor farmer who cannot afford to hold his grain will be given a warehouse receipt, good for two-thirds the face value of the grain represented."

"The farmers hope by this regulation of supply and demand to establish the market values. In this connection we will issue daily price bulletins. Telephones in farmhouses will be advocated that the farmer may quickly be advised of a raise. This will give him an opportunity to sell at a profitable figure."

BANK ROBBERS ARE CAUGHT. Sheriff L. Foster Arrests Bandits Who Looted North Dakota Bank.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 24.—After a chase lasting 36 hours, the sheriff's posse succeeded Tuesday evening in capturing the five bandits who robbed the Sawyer, N. D., bank early Monday morning when a battle ensued with citizens, during which 300 shots were fired, the robbers getting away with $4,600.

The men were discovered on a farm near here. Escape was attempted and in a fight which followed one robber was severely wounded in the leg.

Another member of the party ran into a slough with $300 in gold and bills and dropped the money into the water. Money was also scattered on the prairie by the bandits. Chief of Police Hagen secured $3,000 of the money.

Four of the captured men are young and well-dressed, none being over 25 years old. The leader is a hardened looking criminal, somewhat older. The money was being carried in bags and was composed of gold and bills, all the heavy silver having been thrown away.

PLAN TO HOLD FARM OUTPUT

ALL SORTS OF PRODUCE TO BE PUT IN STORE.

Scheme is to hold stock for Profitable Prices by Regulating Supply to the Demand.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 24.—The first national convention of the American Society of Equity, composed of farmers, began here Tuesday, with more than 500 delegates present from Illinois, Kentucky, New York, North Carolina, Utah, Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana. The convention seeks to regulate values of grain and farm produce by regulating the supply in relation to the demand.

In his annual address President C. O. Drayton, of Greenville, Ill., said: "This is not a trust, nor a combine to force extortionate prices, but rather an organization to get profitable prices for farm products. THE MONETARY SITUATION

The country just now is passing through a peculiar era. Manufacturing industries are crowded with orders, business of all kinds is good, a record-breaking crop is being marketed, and yet the money market is so unsettled that the great money centers are on the verge of panic. These conditions are not confined to Wall street. The Bank of England advanced interest rates to five per cent a month ago. Last Thursday the directors met and decided to continue the rate, but on Friday they had another meeting and without warning advanced the rate to six per cent. This created a flurry in London and badly demoralized the stock market in New York. The policy was adopted to protect the bank reserve from heavy inroads being made by the United States and Egypt. The Wall Street Journal gives a number of reasons for existing conditions, which are well worth reading. The paper says:

"The key to the present conditions at home and abroad seems to be that economic developments are being pushed faster than the monetary resources of the different countries would naturally permit. The danger lies in the tendency to assume larger obligations of one kind before those of another are fully out of the way. There results, in this way, an overlapping of obligations which might become greater than can readily be borne. In addition to the political and financial weakness of Russia, there are several phases of the business situation which have not attracted sufficient attention. Among these are the following:

"1. Continued depression in South Africa, in the districts of which Johannesburg is the center, for some months past.

"2. The breakdown of government in Cuba, and the collapse of one of the largest banking institutions identified with the industrial developments there, thereby jeopardizing the large income from crops.

"3. The failure of the Ontario Bank of Canada, for causes which have not as yet been made clear to the public generally.

"4. Widespread criticism among the banking interests of the United States of the existing currency system.

"5. The heavy volume of investment of free capital in mining stocks, to the neglect of more stable forms of investments.

"6. The tying up of many millions in real estate, including land values and business buildings, in some cases much in advance of probable needs.

"7. The large destruction of values incident to tropical storms as affecting the cotton and tobacco crops in Cuba and in the southern states.

"8. The inadequacy of transportation facilities for handling the internal commerce of this country at this season of the year.

"9. The political campaigns, on the turn of which great issues are at stake in the attitude of government toward investment interests.

"10. The verdict of the Ohio jury against the Standard Oil Co., convicting it of conspiracy in restraint of trade."

BEVERIDGE ON BRYAN

The following communication to the Chicago Chronicle rings true and sizes up the Nebraska orator correctly: "Fort Atkinson, Wis., Oct. 20.—The unthinking multitude cannot be blamed for chasing off after Bryan like a flock of sheep after a bell-wether when there is such an epidemic of silliness in regard to him among republican leaders such as Senator Beveridge in his speech brought out in strong light. There must be something in Nebraska air to make men giddy. It was about the worst flying off the handle by a public speaker of any note within memory.

"Such deliriums disclose a lot of latent lunacy in public men. The crowds like that kind of men. It is a touch of nature that makes them feel that they are kin to those they consider great. Senator Beveridge is one of the latest victims of the Bryan illusion. Bryan is notoriously the opposite of the qualities of mind and heart ascribed to him.

"Mistaken in policy he is not. He knows what its effect would be and is reckless of disaster if he can gain power. He is not a hero of conscience. He had no moral birth-right to sell at St. Louis. He had a hobby that meant money and perhaps another nomination if persisted in. 'Undismayed' he was because he had everything to gain and nothing to lose. To have admitted the truth would have shattered his fortunes, but he must utter his thought over and over or fall. The stuff out of which is made great preachers and reformers is not in him. He is the vendor of political goldbricks.

"To say that in the pulpit Mr. Bryan would have been a greater and nobler preacher shows how completely Senator Beveridge had taken leave of his senses. Bryan is by nature and by training quite another kind of preacher. He is a preacher of discontent and of class hatred. He is a leveler who has devoted ten years to the work of leveling down the understanding of the people to the standard of revolution. His natural pulpit is a platform, his natural audience is a mob.

Reason 5 is very significant and applies to all parts of the country, for the fever of speculation is widespread. Every hamlet and village, to say nothing about the cities, has its coterie of goldbrick investors, and a great volume of ready money is being diverted from regular channels. To say that the most of this money is hopelessly lost, when invested, is to but state a truth which many people have demonstrated to their sorrow.

The ninth reason is of significance because of the uncertainties of a political campaign. The success of Hearst in New York would mean a victory for socialism and discontent and it would point to national weakness.

The election of a man like Bryan or Hearst to the presidency would unsettle values and paralyze business in every department. Money is extremely sensitive along these lines, and speedily retires from circulation.

The last reason may seem far-fetched, for the Standard Oil company is the favorite kicking post for every body, but this company is a representative of corporate interests, and corporate wealth, just now, is under the ban.

It is easier to destroy than to create and the spirit of destruction is in the air. If corporations are to be attacked all along the line money will retire until the frenzy spends itself.

It is easy to criticize and theorize, but it is not so easy to retain the confidence of capital. The nation is traveling at a rapid pace and a panic may be necessary to safe adjustment.

A NEW DAILY

The initial number of the Stoughton Daily Hub under date of Oct. 20 has made its appearance. It is a bright and snappy paper and speaks well for its founder, Charles S. Crosse, who for the past seventeen years has published the Weekly Hub, one of the best inland papers in the state.

Mr. Crosse possesses commendable confidence in Stoughton. He believes that the time is ripe for a daily, and for many months has been contemplating the move which finally launched it in the field.

That success will crown his efforts is the wish of his brother publishers throughout the state. If the business men of Stoughton rally to his support, as they should, there will be no question about the outcome. The paper can do much for the little city if given an opportunity. Success to the Stoughton Daily Hub.

MAGAZINE FOR THE BLIND

Current literature for the blind has long been in demand, but the supply has been extremely limited, because it is expensive to furnish and could only be printed at a loss. The blind people will be glad to know that they are to be furnished with a first-class monthly magazine in the point language without cost.

This philanthropic work is undertaken by Mrs. Wm. Zeigler, widow of the late millionaire baking powder king. The magazine will contain short stories as well as current news and will fill a long-felt want. It will prove a perpetual monument to the memory of Mr. Zeigler.

The city of Galveston is governed by a commission composed of five men who are paid $1200 each and who devote what time is necessary to the city. The government is so satisfactory that a number of Texas cities have adopted it. Wisconsin should try the experiment.

When the council grants the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville interurban road package freight privileges that company will be in position to render the city more efficient service. The merchants want it and the road should have it.

The author of "The Jungle" is now on the regular staff of one of the muck-raking magazines. He is an out and out socialist and, therefore, fits every requirement.

Governor Davidson said he was very well satisfied with the primary law this year, and would let the measure go at that. Some other people are not so well pleased.

Bryan was in Wisconsin Friday, North Dakota, Saturday, Colorado, Sunday, and Indiana, Monday. He is spreading himself out too thin for effective work.

If the next legislature tackles the good roads proposition it will find the governor in sympathy. He was enthusiastic over the question last Monday night.

Mr. Clough got more in his franchise than he asked. The lightning and power clause was an afterthought of the council and entitled to commendation.

Senator La Follette is to speak at Racine and Burlington on the 30th. He is commencing too late in the season to do much harm.

The Gazette hardly dares to say a good word for Mr. Blanchard for fear of results.

"A Hero on Crutches" or "The Little King of Angel's Landing" is a new book just brought out by the Appleton Publishing Co. It is from the pen of Elmore Elliott Peake, son of the Rev. T. DeWitt Peake, a former pastor of the old Court Street church.

Mr. Peake is the author of a number of popular stories. He possesses the rare faculty of finding his characters in ordinary walks of life and painting everyday experiences so naturally and yet so vividly that his stories are fascinating.

"Angel's Landing" was a little steamboat town on the Ohio river just such a town and peopled with just such people as are to be found on the banks of the Ohio.

The hero of the story, "Abe," is a crippled boy of 10 adopted by an old man who found him when a baby in the bushes along the shore, where he had been cast by a steamboat explosion. The story of his boyhood is vividly told and all unconsciously the lad becomes a hero in the most natural way.

The vein of theology running through the story is characteristic of all of Mr. Peake's work and harks back to the early home and the father who continues to be his inspiration.

The book, dedicated to "My sister Verne" who knew the little hero, is more fact than fiction. It is bright and interesting from cover to cover and well worth reading. The price is $1.25 by all book-dealers.

EIGHT WRECKS BIG AND LITTLE

ON THE ST. PAUL ROAD WITHIN TWO DAYS.

TWO FIREMEN ARE KILLED

Cars Derailed at Five Points This Morning—Trains Late Last Night and Again Today.

Eight wrecks occurred on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway between seven o'clock Monday night and seven o'clock this morning. Two of these were fatal to firemen, in one other injuries were sustained and some of the others were mere derailments. One of the lesser accidents happened in Janesville. Two foreign freight cars were derailed at an early hour this morning at the Five Points. Both were loaded with farm implements and it was not until ten o'clock that the road was cleared. All freight trains in and out were delayed as a result. The passenger schedule was not thus interfered with.

Cars Off at Bardwell.

But, nevertheless, passenger traffic suffered from two other wrecks. This morning several cars were derailed at Bardwell. A call was sent here for the wrecking crew, but all were in Beloit and the line was not opened again until noon. The result was that all trains between Janesville and Chicago were compelled to go via Beloit, Rockford and Davis Junction. This caused the passenger delay here at 10:30 to be an hour and fifteen minutes late. So that Milwaukee-bound passengers from here, and off the Davis Junction and Mineral Point branches could make connections with the train leaving Milton Junction shortly before eleven, two cars and the engine of the Mineral Point-Janesville train were run special to the Junction.

Locomotive Split Switch

The trouble at Beloit which called the car-repairers from here and delayed the work of clearing at Bardwell was the splitting of a switch by a locomotive. The engine proper took one track, while the tender took another. The line was blocked and the locomotive damaged. Last evening also all trains from Chicago were from one to several hours late and passengers for other points failed to make connections as a result. The accident was at Waukegan where several cars were run into the ditch on the main line.

Jumped Against Switch

One of the wrecks in which there was a fatality occurred at Morton's Grove, Ill., this morning and is recorded in the Associated Press dispatches to the Gazette. J. Dougherty, fireman, was killed. Morton's Grove is on the main line from Savannah to Milwaukee. Another fireman, L. Cramer, was killed at Roundout, near Chicago, yesterday noon. He was on a passenger train between Milwaukee and Chicago which ran off the main line onto a siding and crashed into a freight. The switch having been left open, the engineer, stuck to his post, but the fireman jumped and struck a high switch. The head was completely severed from the body. The brakeman was seriously injured.

Mark Hanna's Son Killed

Monday night also there was a wreck at Roundout. The mail car of the Portage-Chicago train, through Janesville hit a sleeping car while being switched and was badly damaged. The draw-bar was demolished and the end of the car stove in. The mail clerk, who resides in Madison, was thrown violently against the racks and sustained bruises about the head. He is lying off in consequence of the reports of these wrecks circulating among the railroad men of the city numerous rumors are rife. One is that a son of the late Mark Hanna, United States Senator and multi-millionaire, was killed in a wreck on the road.

ISSUE UNIFORM DIVORCE PLANS

WORK OF EMINENT LAWYERS AND NOTED CHURCHMEN.

LITTLE CHANGE IN CAUSE

Main Difference Is in Line of Checking Remarriage Until Reasonable Time Has Elapsed After Decree Is Granted.

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—Judge Staake, of this city, secretary of the divorce congress, has received from its committee on resolutions and forwarded to the various delegates a proposed measure for bringing about uniformity in the present divorce laws of the United States.

The proposed statute is the outcome of deep study on the subject by eminent lawyers and jurists and prominent churchmen, all of whom are conversant with existing conditions of the so-called divorce evil, and the proposed new act is calculated to insure remedial results all over the country. Its compilation was entrusted to the resolutions committee, which consists of representatives to congress from this state and New Jersey and they will unanimously report the proposed act to the congress, which reassembles in this city on November 13.

Little Change in Causes. Practically every state and territory will be represented at the meeting.

As soon as practicable the delegates will be assembled to have the proposed new law enacted in their respective states.

The proposed new act is divided into three chapters, and the first consists of jurisdictional provisions, the second, procedure, and the third, general provisions, and is entitled "an act regulating annulment of marriage and divorce."

While little or no change is made in the given causes for divorce as now existing, certain provisions of the new act were evidently made with a view of arresting the increasing demand for legal severance of marital bonds.

No Star Chamber Sessions.

Under these stipulations secret or star chamber sessions for hearing divorce cases before masters or other representatives of the courts are done away with, and "all hearings and trials shall be laid before the court... and shall in all cases be public." It also provided that "a decree dissolving the marriage tie so completely as to permit the remarriage of either party should not become operative until the lapse of a reasonable time after hearing or trial upon the merits of the case." The Wisconsin, Illinois and California rule of one year is recommended.

Another enactment of the proposed new law prohibits the solicitation of a divorce case by advertisement, circular or otherwise, and prescribes for such an offense a fine of not more than $1,000 and imprisonment of not more than one year.

Annulment of Contract.

Annulment of the marriage contract, as distinguished from divorce, will be made from the following causes: Impotency, consanguinity, existing former marriage, fraud, force or coercion, insanity and illegal age.

Divorce, it is provided, shall be of two kinds—absolute, or divorce a vinculo matrimonial, and "divorce from bed and board, or divorce a mensa et thoro."

Under the first classification the grounds shall be "adultery, bigamy, conviction and sentence for crime, followed by two years' continual imprisonment, extreme cruelty, willful desertion, and habitual drunkenness for two years."

The same causes will prevail in the second class, with the additional cause of "hopeless insanity of the husband."

Check on Collusion.

No divorce shall be granted if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the suit has been brought by collusion or that the plaintiff has procured or connived at the offense charged, or has condoned it, or has been guilty of adultery not condoned.

The new law also makes some important changes in the practice and procedure necessary in divorce cases and their trial.

STORM IS MOVING EASTWARD

BLIZZARD SHIFTS FROM COLORADO TO KANSAS.

Denver Reports Snowfall of Ninety Hours' Duration with a Precipitation of Twenty-one Inches.

Denver, Col., Oct. 24.—Eastern Colorado has been in the throes of a blizzard but the weather bureau holds out hope of clearing weather. Snow ceased falling in Denver Tuesday afternoon, the storm center having moved eastward. The storm takes rank as the most severe at this time of year of which the weather bureau has any record.

Snow began falling here last Friday night and it continued to snow about 90 hours. The actual fall of snow in Denver was about 21 inches, and in some other portions of the state it was four feet or more.

The weather map shows a great change in weather conditions. The low pressure which has prevailed over northern Colorado and its eastern strip, and southern Wyoming has filled up. The high pressure remains stationary. A low pressure area has developed in eastern Kansas. The effect of this change is that the wind has shifted from the northeast to the west quarter and blew the storm into Kansas.

Delay of freight and passenger traffic on the railroads is the principal damage done by the storm thus far, although fruit crops, sugar beets and livestock are threatened.

East of Limon, Col., snow filled the deep cuts on the Rock Island, causing a suspension of traffic. The Rocky Mountain Limited was not sent from Denver and Colorado Springs Tuesday, according to schedule.

Cripple Creek, Col., Oct. 24.—Heavy snow Tuesday morning completely tied up the High line electric system and compelled the closing down of most of the mines on Bull and Ironclad hills. The weather cleared late in the day, but a high wind, drifted the snow badly.

HARRIMAN BUYS FISH STOCK

Gives Illinois Central Holdings for Interest in Securities Company.

New York, Oct. 24.—The Tribune says:

Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central Railroad company, has sold to E. H. Harriman his one-third interest in the Railroad Securities company, of which he has for several years been vice president, and Mr. Harriman, president, and has resigned as an officer and director of that corporation.

The Railroad Securities company, upon its organization, acquired 80,000 shares of Illinois Central stock, against which it issued $8,000,000 in collateral trust bonds, which were subsequently exchanged for stock interest certificates. Its Illinois Central holdings, it is understood, now aggregate 94,730 shares.

Mr. Harriman and his friends owning a two-thirds interest in the Securities company, have controlled the entire 94,730 shares of Illinois Central held by the company.

"It is understood that Mr. Fish receives from Harriman payment for his interest in the Railroad Securities company, partly in cash and partly in Illinois Central stock, the amount of the latter delivered to him being something in excess of 8,000 shares. Mr. Harriman's offer to buy out Mr. Fish's interest is said to have been made a few days before the annual meeting of the Illinois Central stockholders, held last Wednesday in Chicago."

EARTHQUAKE CAUSES A PANIC.

The disturbance, which lasted nearly a minute and occurred in the night, rocked all the houses in Anna, throwing dishes, clocks and ornaments from shelves and creating a panic among the residents.

Considerable damage was done to buildings all over the town and throughout the county. Foundations and walls were cracked or settled and many chimneys fell.

ELEVATOR AGENT HELPS MAKE RATE

HAVING INSIDE INFORMATION, HE BUYS CORN.

REPEATS ACT IN WHEAT

Heard of Proposed Cut of 2 1/2 Cents in Freight and Sells Several Hundred Thousand Bushels of Grain.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 24.—Evidence of favoritism shown to the manager of the Kansas City elevators of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway in the matter of granting reduced grain rates to shippers; the existence of a rule in the Kansas City board of trade threatening its members with suspension if they dealt with irregular grain men, so-called, a combine of members of that organization to fix prices, and threats by grain dealers' associations to boycott board of trade members who might buy from farmers and others against whom the associations had issued orders were some of the things brought out here Tuesday at the grain hearing begun Monday by the interstate commerce commission.

A score of grain dealers, elevator men and railway officials were examined. Commissioners Lane and Clarke will continue the hearing in Omaha.

Agent Bought Grain.

E. W. Shields, elevator agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and active manager of the Simonds-Shields Grain company, of Kansas City, who was instructed by the commissioners Monday to return here from St. Louis proved an important witness.

Mr. Shields said he was in Chicago last fall when he was called upon to advise about a special export rate on corn. He helped make a rate, effective several days later, then came home and bought corn right and left. He shipped 3,500,000 bushels of corn under the special rate. He had bought more than a million bushels before other dealers learned that the reduced rate would be made.

Again this summer, he said, he happened to be waiting around the office of the vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, when the railroads agreed on a cut of 3 1/2 cents a hundred pounds on wheat. He went out and sold several hundred thousand bushels for delivery under the rate.

Free Elevator Service.

C. M. Boynton, elevator agent for the Santa Fe system, testified that in September the Santa Fe issued a circular offering free elevator service. This circular, he said, was withdrawn October 10 or 12. He said this offer was made to secure greater tonnage, and was necessary, as other roads were adopting the same plan.

"What is the difference between such a proceeding and giving a rebate?" Commissioner Lane asked.

"I don't know that there is any difference," replied Boynton.

Commissioner Lane said the matter should be referred to the United States district attorney.

De Forest Plazek, president of the Kemper Grain company, of this city, testified that he had been repeatedly requested by the Nebraska Grain Dealers' association not to buy grain from certain shippers, because they were not members of the association. The Kemper Grain company refusing, was boycotted by the Nebraska association.

T. P. Gordon, of St. Joseph, Mo., told of buying grain in Kansas City in August, when the rate was eight cents, taking it to St. Joseph, where he held it until September, when the rate of 10 1/2 cents was restored, and then forwarding it to Chicago on the lower rate as grain billed through from Kansas City. He explained that all the grain he had in the elevator at the time the cheap rate expired was billed out at the cheap rate, but the company could not furnish cars and he was afraid to sell the grain until he could get the cars.

Boy Bandit Sentenced.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 24.—Charles Smith, who came here from Chicago and organized a youthful band of highwaymen, who held up and robbed many people during the month of September, was sentenced to 26 years in the penitentiary.

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 24.—The remains of Gen. W. H. Bell, who died last week near Denver, were buried in the National cemetery at Fort Leavenworth Tuesday. Six of the higher officers of the post acted as pall bearers.

Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 24.—Everything is in readiness for the dedication Friday of the Illinois memorial temple and regimental markers in the Vicksburg national park. Illinois work here represents an expenditure of $260,000.

Filipinos Are Learning.

V., jumps overboard with a paper box of sulphur matches in one pocket, some tobacco and vice paper in another, and when these articles are thoroughly saturated will tread water while rolling a cigarette and striking a light. He dries the head of a match by rubbing it against his scalp where the hair is thickest.—N. Y. Press.

Pedagogical Observations.

"The road to knowledge, now days," said the first old schoolmaster, "is too swift and too easy. It is a regular railroad." "Yes," agreed the other old pedagogue, "and it's a railroad with fewer switches than are necessary."

"You shall have it if you wish. We will not consult her wishes in the matter. The affair is too serious."

"Very well, then, send her in here and let me have a few words with her alone. Don't tell her that I am a detective. Leave that to me."

"A few minutes later a tall woman, apparently about 45 years of age, entered. She was not handsome, yet had a pleasing face. As she seated herself she looked keenly at Mr. Barnes in a stealthy manner, which should have attracted the gentleman's earnest thought. Apparently he did not notice it. The woman spoke first."

"The conductor has sent me in here to see you. What have you to do with the case?"

"Nothing!"

"Nothing? Then why?"

"When I say I have nothing to do with the case, I mean, simply that it rests with you whether I shall undertake to restore to you your diamonds or not. I look after such things for this road, but if the loser does not wish any action taken by the road, why then, we drop the matter. Do you wish me to make a search for the stolen property?"

"I certainly wish to recover the jewels, as they are very valuable, but I am not sure that I desire to place the case in the hands of a detective."

"Who said that I am a detective?"

"Are you not?"

"Mr. Barnes hesitated a moment, but quickly decided on his course."

"I am a detective connected with a private agency. Therefore I can undertake to look up the thief without publicity. That is your main objection to placing the case in my hands, is it not?"

"You are shrewd. There are reasons, family reasons, why I do not wish this loss published to the world. If you can

"But—the conductor wants to search me."

"Undertake to recover the jewels and keep this robbery out of the newspapers I would pay you well."

"I will take the case. Now answer me a few questions. First, your name and address."

"My name is Rose Mitchell, and I am living temporarily in a furnished flat in East Thirtieth street, New York. I have recently come from New Orleans, my home, and am looking for suitable apartments."

"Mr. Barnes took out his note book and made a memorandum of the address."

"Married or single?"

"Married, but my husband has been dead for several years."

"Now about these jewels. How did it happen that you were traveling with so valuable a lot of jewelry?"

"I have not lost jewelry, but jewels. They are unset stones of rare beauty—diamonds, rubies, pearls and other precious stones. When my husband died, he left a large fortune, but there were also large debts, which swallowed up everything save what was due him from one creditor. This was an Italian nobleman—I need not mention his name—who died almost at the same time as my husband. The executors communicated with me, and our correspondence culminated in my accepting these jewels in payment of the debt. I received them in Boston yesterday, and already I have lost them. It is too cruel—too cruel!"

"She gripped her hands together convulsively, and a few tears coursed down her face. Mr. Barnes missed a few moments and seemed not to be observing her."

"What was the value of these jewels?"

"One hundred thousand dollars."

"By what express company were they sent to you?" The question was a simple one, and Mr. Barnes asked it rather mechanically, though he was wondering if the thief had come across the ocean from France, perhaps. He was therefore astonished at the effect produced. The woman arose suddenly, her whole manner changed. She replied with her lips compressed tightly, as though laboring under some excitement.

"That is not essential. Perhaps I am telling too much to a stranger anyway. Come to my apartment; this evening, I will give you further particulars—If I decide to leave the case in your hands. If not, I will pay you for whatever trouble you have in the interim. Good morning!"

"Mr. Barnes watched her leave her room without offering to detain her or making any comment on her singular manner. Without rising from his seat he looked out of the window and strummed on the piano. What he thought it would be difficult to tell, but presently he said aloud, though there was no one to hear him:

"I think she is a liar!"

Having relieved himself thus, he returned to his own coach. He found two gentlemen in the toilet room allowing themselves to be searched, laughing over the matter as a huge joke. He passed by and entered his own compartment, which the porter had put in order. One after another the few passengers arose, heard of the robbery and, cheerfully passed through the ordeal of being searched.

At last his patience was rewarded by seeing the curtains of No. 8 moving, and a moment later a fine looking young man of six and twenty emerged, partly dressed, and went toward the toilet.

Mr. Barnes sanftered after him, and entered the smoking room. He had scarcely seated himself before a young woman, who was evidently the other occupant of section 8. While this second man was washing, the conductor explained to the other about the robbery, and suggested that he allow himself to be searched. By this time the conductor was becoming excited. They were within a few minutes of New York, and all his passengers had been examined save these two. Yet these two looked more aristocratic than any of the others. He was astonished, therefore, to observe that the young man addressed seemed very much disturbed. He stammered and stuttered, seeking words, and finally in a hoarse voice addressed his companion:

"Bob, do you hear, there's been a robbery!"

"His friend Bob was, bending over the water basin, his head and face covered with a stiff soap lather and his hands rubbing his skin vigorously. Before replying he dipped his head completely under the water, held it so submerged a moment, then stood erect with eyes shut and reached for a towel. In a moment he had wiped the suds from his eyes, and looking at his friend he answered most unconcernedly:

"What of it?"

"But—but—the conductor wants to search me."

"All right. What are you afraid of? You are not the thief, are you?"

"No—but—"

"There is no but in it. If you are innocent, let them go through you." Then with a light laugh he turned to the glass and began arranging his cravat. His friend looked at him a moment with an expression which no one but Mr. Barnes understood. The detective had recognized by their voices that it was Bob who had made the wager to commit a crime, and it was plain that his friend already suspected him. His fright was occasioned by the thought that perhaps Bob had stolen the jewels during the night and then secreted them in his clothing, where, if found the suspicion would not be on Bob.

Mr. Barnes was amused as he saw the young man actually searching himself. In a few minutes, with a sigh of intense relief, having evidently discovered nothing foreign in his pockets, he turned to the conductor who stood waiting and expectant.

"My conductor," he began, "I fear that my conduct has seemed suspicious. I can't explain, but nevertheless I am perfectly willing to have you make a search. Indeed I am anxious that it should be a thorough one." The examination was made, and with the others, nothing was found.

"Here is my card. I am Arthur Randolph, of the firm of J. Q. Randolph & Son, bankers." Mr. Randolph stood a trifle more erect as he said this, and the poor conductor felt that he had done him a grievous wrong. Mr. Randolph continued: "This is my friend, Robert Leroy Mitchell. I will vouch for him."

At the name Mitchell Mr. Barnes was a trifle startled. It was the same as that which had been given by the woman who had been robbed. At this point Mr. Mitchell, a man of 45, with a classic face, spoke:

"Thanks, Arthur, I can take care of myself!"

The conductor hesitated a moment, and then addressed Mr. Mitchell:

"I regret very much the necessity which compels me to ask you to allow yourself to be searched, but it is my duty."

"My dear sir, I understand perfectly that it is your duty and have no personal feelings against you. Nevertheless I distinctly refuse."

"You refuse?" The words came from the other three men together. It is difficult to tell which was the most surprised. Randolph turned pale and leaned against the partition for support. Mr. Barnes became slightly excited and said:

"That amounts to a tacit acknowledgment of guilt, since every other man has been searched." Mr. Mitchell's reply to this was even more of a surprise than what he had said before:

"That alters the case. If every one else has submitted, so will I." Without more ado he divested himself of his clothing. Nothing was found. The satchels of both men were brought, but the search was fruitless. The conductor glanced at the detective helplessly, but that gentleman was looking out of the window. One who knew Mr. Barnes could have told that he was angry, for he was biting the end of his moustache.

"Here we are at the Grand Central," said Mr. Mitchell. "Are we at liberty to leave the train?" Receiving an acquiescent nod, the two friends walked to the other end of the coach. Mr. Barnes abruptly started up, and without a word jumped from the train as it slowly rolled into the great depot. He went up to a man quickly, said a few words in an undertone, and both went back toward the train. Presently the woman who had been robbed came along, and as she passed out of the building Mr. Barnes' companion followed her. He himself was about to depart, when, feeling a light tap upon his shoulder, he turned and faced Mr. Mitchell.

"Mr. Barnes," said the latter, "I want a few words with you. Will you breakfast with me in the restaurant?"

"How did you know that my name is Barnes?"

S.S.S. CURES CATARRH

Catarrh cannot be washed away with sprays, inhalations and such treatment, nor can it be smoked out with medicated tobacco, cigarettes, etc. When you attempt to cure Catarrh with such things you are wasting time and allowing the impurities and poisons in the blood, which produce the disease, to get so firmly rooted as to become not only a disgusting trouble, but a very dangerous one. The annoying symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, "hawking and spitting," headaches, mucus dropping back into the throat, impairment to the senses of taste and smell, and a feeling of general debility, prove that there is a deep-seated cause for Catarrh. This cause is a polluted and unhealthy condition of the blood, and the disease cannot be cured until this is removed. The only way to get rid of Catarrh permanently is to purify the blood, and S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this purpose. It soon clears the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this disgusting and far-reaching disease. S. S. S. puts the blood in perfect order, and as this pure, healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the body, Catarrh is permanently cured. Book with information about Catarrh and medical advice free.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are advised as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches, and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bleed after eating, and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as if I had a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this. A merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them, is an enormous waste. The pain is cured, and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

GERMANS CELEBRATE SOME ODD JUBILEES

Press of Kaiser's Domain Records Sixty-ninth Birthday of Woman Fifty Times a Grandmother.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Berlin, Oct. 24.—Some interesting jubilees are recorded in the German press this week. An instance of the remarkable fertility of the rural population in certain parts of the empire is furnished by a woman named Miel, aged 69, an inmate of the workhouse at Pitschen, who has just become a grandmother for the 50th time. The hero of a golden jubilee of another sort is one Adolf Krone, who has been sentenced at Hanover for the 50th time to three months' imprisonment for wilfully damaging property. Fraulein Wokurka has celebrated her diamond jubilee as a member of the chorus of the Dresden opera-house. The popular old lady, who is 77, is still in robust health. Despite the time-honored jokes about the age of chorus girls Fraulein Wokurka probably is the only one in the world who has passed her 70th year and is still in the profession.

The Kafir's Heaven

Here is a good Kafir story, which has the merit of being true. A Christian Zulu-Kafir was heard recounting to another Kafir, with all the fullness and picturesqueness their language so well allows, a vision of heaven which he had had in a dream; and he described in detail what heaven was like. "And saw you any, Kaffirs there?" inquired his listener. The teller of the story pondered awhile, and then, "No," said he, "for I did not look into the kitchen."

Home of the Coccoanut

The milk in the water cocoanut is a food as well as a beverage. The cart driven through the streets of Jamaica by the quaint old dandy urging along his rebellious steed in the form of a native donkey is an interesting sight. One is amazed at the dexterous manner in which the vender takes the unripe cocoanut in his hand and deftly cuts a hole in the top, from which you drink the milk. Then you return the nut to the man and with his machete he cracks it into three pieces and cuts a spoon-shaped silver from one side, from which you eat the white, jelly-like substance scraped from the inside. These are the unripe cocoanuts. When ripe the jelly hardens into the hard white substance to which we are accustomed.

Ohio's First Capitol Building

The first capitol of Ohio, at Chillicothe, was built of logs. It was built two stories high, which made it a building of mark in its time, and its dimensions on the ground were 36 feet by 24 feet—which was big for Chillicothe.

Lessons Taught by New Rules

Football Developments Show Weakness of Forward Pass.

Leads to Fumbles—On Side Kick, However, Is Valuable.

The followers of college football are divided as to the practical working of the new code. At the general meeting of the experts in New York recently there seemed to be a pronounced feeling that further revision of the rules would be necessary before the game would be acceptable to those who believe in it and those who do not.

The game played to date proved little or nothing as to the practical working of the "forward pass" and "on side kick," two of the most important changes in the rules, but they did show that the consecutive advance of the ball ten yards in three downs was almost impossible if two eleven were fairly evenly matched. They also showed what is perhaps more important, that the sport would be cleaner and free to a large extent from the unfair tactics which do so much to bring it in disrepute. Princeton and Cornell appeared to make good use of the "forward pass" but Harvard did not use it often enough to give it a fair trial.

In talking with the experts at the meeting in mind it seemed to be the feeling that the defense had not been measurably weakened and that instead of compelling automatically the secondary defense to withdraw behind the line any material distance the rules had permitted the "defensive team" to ignore line plunging and to spread out so as to make end running more difficult than before.

The forward pass is not regarded seriously as an important factor as it has developed. It is not believed that it can be utilized without incurring so much danger of losing the ball as to nullify its advantages.

In the trials that have been made of it in practice the ball has been lost through inaccuracy of passing more times than caught. No one seems to believe that it can be made a steady, consistent and dependable play.

The on side kick, however, offers a different proposition. It is virtually a forward pass, as was the quarterback kick before, with the additional advantage that if the ball touches the ground through inaccuracy of any kind it is not lost to the kicking side. Accordingly it is possible to kick it forward and follow it so closely as to stand more than an even chance of securing it.

This play, therefore, is believed to be the most potent and most likely to be frequently used of any of those which now appear possible as features of the attack.

The whole attitude of a majority of the players appears to be one of doubt, with the hope that something may develop which will prove practical to prevent the game becoming a mere interchange of kicks, with a more or less uncertain and uninteresting senseless scramble for the pigskin while it is free on the ground.

Booming Kid Sullivan

Maurice Herford has taken Kid Sullivan under his managerial wing and is out with a challenge to match him against Battling Nelson, Terry McGovern, Jimmy Britt, Kid Herman or Chantley Neary.

He prefers Nelson to any of the others and claims Sullivan beat the Battler in six rounds a year ago last June. Nelson is not a six round fighter, and maybe Sullivan did outpoint him—at least so it was reported. It was on the strength of that contest that Sullivan secured a match with Jimmy Britt and was beaten in twenty rounds. Perhaps the Kid has improved since then, but there is not a club in America that will hang up a purse worth going after for him and Nelson.

Maurice, however, is determined to bring his boy to the front and writes he will match his protege against any 130 to 133 pound man in the country, barring Joe Gans.

The McClellan statue commission, composed of Secretary Taft, Senator Wadsworth and General Horatio C. King, have fixed the time for the unveiling of the statue in Washington in May next.

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman." In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.

IT IS SAID

that there never was a good article put on the market that was not imitated. We all know that imitations are never so good as the genuine and in stoves it was never more emphatically demonstrated than in the case of the genuine ROUND OAK heating stove. There are four or five hundred imitations of this famous stove and not one of them ever "worked" like the ROUND OAK and not one ever made a reputation. Does it not stand to reason that the stove that has stood the test for 35 years, with still the largest sale and greatest reputation has some great merits that place it above and beyond its imitators? Sure, and we wish you to know that the ROUND OAK is the best all-around heating stove for any kind of fuel made. Have you seen it rigged up for hard coal? We have it and invite an inspection. The name "ROUND OAK" is on the leg and door.
